Three departments have been set up at VEB Reparaturwerk Lommatzsch.¹ All three departments are to produce parts for the Main Administration for Industrial Requirements and are to deliver them to VEB Industriewerk Dresden and to the Dresden-Klotzsche airfield.² One of the departments is to process motor parts. The second one is being set up to manufacture tools and equipment. The third, which is called the Department for Wood-Processing, received large deliveries of plywood and other wood stocks during late June and early July 1955.
